

A MEMORY PROJECT

WHERE IS THEIR PENSION?

农民养活了国家，他们的养老金
在哪里？

30× gap most people don't know

Scan to see the real story behind this
grainmemory.org

A MEMORY PROJECT

WHERE IS THEIR PENSION?

农民养活了国家，他们的养老金
在哪里？

30× gap most people don't know

Scan to see the real story behind this
grainmemory.org

A MEMORY PROJECT

WHERE IS THEIR PENSION?

农民养活了国家，他们的养老金
在哪里？

30× gap most people don't know

Scan to see the real story behind this
grainmemory.org

A MEMORY PROJECT

WHERE IS THEIR PENSION?

农民养活了国家，他们的养老金
在哪里？

30× gap most people don't know

Scan to see the real story behind this
grainmemory.org

A MEMORY PROJECT

WHERE IS THEIR PENSION?

农民养活了国家，他们的养老金
在哪里？

30× gap most people don't know

Scan to see the real story behind this
grainmemory.org

A MEMORY PROJECT

WHERE IS THEIR PENSION?

农民养活了国家，他们的养老金
在哪里？

30× gap most people don't know

Scan to see the real story behind this
grainmemory.org

A MEMORY PROJECT

WHERE IS THEIR PENSION?

农民养活了国家，他们的养老金
在哪里？

30× gap most people don't know

Scan to see the real story behind this
grainmemory.org

A MEMORY PROJECT

WHERE IS THEIR PENSION?

农民养活了国家，他们的养老金
在哪里？

30× gap most people don't know

Scan to see the real story behind this
grainmemory.org

HE FED THE NATION. WHO FEEDS HIM NOW?

He woke up before sunrise, year after year.

Working the same fields, under the same sky.

Every harvest, a portion of his grain was taken — not by choice, but as a duty.

It was called “contribution.”

Now he is old.

His hands are still rough, but the fields are no longer his.

His monthly pension is about $30.

He fed the nation.

But who feeds him now?

HE FED THE NATION. WHO FEEDS HIM NOW?

He woke up before sunrise, year after year.

Working the same fields, under the same sky.

Every harvest, a portion of his grain was taken — not by choice, but as a duty.

It was called “contribution.”

Now he is old.

His hands are still rough, but the fields are no longer his.

His monthly pension is about $30.

He fed the nation.

But who feeds him now?

HE FED THE NATION. WHO FEEDS HIM NOW?

He woke up before sunrise, year after year.

Working the same fields, under the same sky.

Every harvest, a portion of his grain was taken — not by choice, but as a duty.

It was called “contribution.”

Now he is old.

His hands are still rough, but the fields are no longer his.

His monthly pension is about $30.

He fed the nation.

But who feeds him now?

HE FED THE NATION. WHO FEEDS HIM NOW?

He woke up before sunrise, year after year.

Working the same fields, under the same sky.

Every harvest, a portion of his grain was taken — not by choice, but as a duty.

It was called “contribution.”

Now he is old.

His hands are still rough, but the fields are no longer his.

His monthly pension is about $30.

He fed the nation.

But who feeds him now?

HE FED THE NATION. WHO FEEDS HIM NOW?

He woke up before sunrise, year after year.

Working the same fields, under the same sky.

Every harvest, a portion of his grain was taken — not by choice, but as a duty.

It was called “contribution.”

Now he is old.

His hands are still rough, but the fields are no longer his.

His monthly pension is about $30.

He fed the nation.

But who feeds him now?

HE FED THE NATION. WHO FEEDS HIM NOW?

He woke up before sunrise, year after year.

Working the same fields, under the same sky.

Every harvest, a portion of his grain was taken — not by choice, but as a duty.

It was called “contribution.”

Now he is old.

His hands are still rough, but the fields are no longer his.

His monthly pension is about $30.

He fed the nation.

But who feeds him now?

HE FED THE NATION. WHO FEEDS HIM NOW?

He woke up before sunrise, year after year.

Working the same fields, under the same sky.

Every harvest, a portion of his grain was taken — not by choice, but as a duty.

It was called “contribution.”

Now he is old.

His hands are still rough, but the fields are no longer his.

His monthly pension is about $30.

He fed the nation.

But who feeds him now?

HE FED THE NATION. WHO FEEDS HIM NOW?

He woke up before sunrise, year after year.

Working the same fields, under the same sky.

Every harvest, a portion of his grain was taken — not by choice, but as a duty.

It was called “contribution.”

Now he is old.

His hands are still rough, but the fields are no longer his.

His monthly pension is about $30.

He fed the nation.

But who feeds him now?